

Dr Farrah Othman (BMed FRACP) will complete her Interventional Cardiology Fellowship in December 2023 at Fiona Stanley Hospital in Perth.

She graduated medicine at the University of Newcastle, NSW and then went on to complete her Basic Physician Training and Cardiology training at Royal Prince Alfred Hospital in Sydney.

Farrah was awarded the Australian and New Zealand Endovascular Therapies Fellows Prize in 2022 and received a scholarship to attend the Society for Cardiovascular Angiography and Interventions Fellows course. Dr Othman is passionate about preventive cardiology with a particular interest in premature coronary disease and cardiovascular disease in women. She provides personalised preventative strategies focusing on educating and empowering patients to make meaningful lifestyle changes. Farrah's professional passion is influenced by her own commitment to a healthy lifestyle frequently participating in triathlons, marathons and ultramarathons. She is currently training for the Margaret River 80km ultramarathon.